OBSOLETE CURSIVE WRITING

(Charlie Gamble-Fort Recovery, OH)

At the teacher conference for second grade we were informed that not much time would be spent on cursive writing. Beyond signatures it is not used much anymore. Writing is done with computers. All of our books are printed. People don't write letters but send emails or texts.

That got me wondering about the Bible. I am not sure that I see it used as much as I used to either. It is seldom referred to as a standard for living. Sermons are being given in pulpits without ever a mention of scripture. It isn't being read at home.

I remember when we used to encourage people to use the Bible for something other than a coffee table book. Apparently they have. I don't see them on coffee tables anymore. But what are they using them for now? It is a mystery.

God has told us that heaven and earth will pass away but His word will never pass away in Matthew 24:35. That sounds like a very clear promise to me. The Bible will never be obsolete so let's not treat it like it is. It is as relevant as ever. Be diligent to present yourself approved to God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. 2 Tim 2:15 (NKJV)
