Twinkies and Root Beer

A little boy set out to meet God. He thought it could be a long trip to where God lives so he packed his suitcase with Twinkies and a six pack of root beer and started on his journey.

When he had gone 3 blocks he met an old man, sitting in the park. The boy sat next to him and opened his suitcase. He was about to take a drink from his root beer when he noticed that the old man looked hungry so he offered him a Twinkie.

The elderly man accepted it and smiled at the boy. His smile was so pleasant the boy wanted to see it again, so he offered him a root beer. Again he smiled. The boy was delighted. They sat together all afternoon eating and smiling, but they did not say a word.

As it grew dark, the boy realized how tired he was and got up to leave, but before he had gone a few steps he turned around, ran back and hugged the old man. The man gave his biggest smile ever.

When the boy got home his Mother noticed the joy on his face. She asked "What did you do today"? He replied "I had lunch with God". He went on to tell his Mother that God had the most beautiful smile.

Meanwhile the old man also radiant with joy returned home. His son saw his look and asked "Dad, what did you do to that made you so happy"? He replied, "I ate Twinkies in the park with God". He seemed much younger than expected.

Moral: never underestimate the power of a touch, a smile, a kind word, a listening ear, an honest complement or the smallest act of caring.

Kid's Humor

While taking a routine vandalism report at an elementary school, I was interrupted by a little girl about 6 years old. Looking up and down at my uniform, she asked, 'Are you a cop? Yes,' I answered and continued writing the report. My mother said if I ever needed help I should ask the police. Is that right?' 'Yes, that's right,' I told her. 'Well, then,' she said as she extended her foot toward me, 'would you please tie my shoe?'
