Is My Worship Praise?
By David Bragg

The famous composer Franz Haydn attended the performance of one of his great works, The Creation, at the Vienna Music Hall in Austria. The audience, aware of Haydn's presence among them, were caught up in the excitement of the orchestra's performance and burst forth with an explosion of applause for the composer. But the elderly Haydn, struggling to stand from his wheelchair, motioned for silence. When the crowd became quiet the composer pointed toward heaven and said, "No, no, not from me, but from thence comes all!" Having given recognition to God, Haydn collapsed into his wheelchair in exhaustion (Daily Bread, September 20, 1992).

God, the only true audience of worship, is the One (and only One) who has the right to demand how He is worshiped. He has authorized in the New Testament the form and modes of worship He will accept. But in addition to that, our worship must go beyond the physical acts. There is a mental, emotional, and spiritual aspect to worship. Each individual worshiper must transform the acts and words of worship into personal praise directed to a loving and majestic God. Think about the words you pray and sing. Exalt God in your worship and then your worship will be praise.

The Lord Will Provide
By Travis Robertson

I have had many people speak these words to me when I was going through a difficult time in my life, “The Lord will provide.” In one way it was very comforting to hear these words, it encouraged me to put my faith in God and His plans for my life. In another way I was struck with guilt that I hadn’t been looking to God to provide. God has been providing for us since the beginning and we need to put more faith in Him as our provider.

One of the earliest times we see God provide is found in Genesis 22 with Abraham’s sacrifice. Despite the level of difficulty in God’s command, Abraham remained obedient in his faith. As a result of this obedience, God not only blessed Abraham, but provided for him. Scripture says, “and Abraham lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, behind him was a ram, caught in a thicket by his horns” (Gen. 22:13).

After Abraham made the sacrifice of the ram, he named the site, “The Lord Will Provide” (Gen. 22:14). Likewise, we can lift our eyes and look around to see how God has blessed us. What is the ram in your life? How has God provided for you? Certainly, God giving His Son would top the list, because of our eternal salvation, but God doesn’t stop there with His blessings. What about everyday life? Consider these verses in Matthew 6:11, 30 where Jesus encourages us to rely on God to provide our daily needs. Take a moment today to reflect on God’s provision in your life. Don’t stop short and forget to praise Him with thanksgiving!
